Headline:
Mainly dry and bright today. Feeling a little less cold.

Today:
A generally cold, but bright or sunny start. Cloudier for a time in the southwest, with some shortlived rain, sleet or snow. Sunny spells and isolated showers by the afternoon. Still rather cold, but feeling warmer in the sunshine. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Tonight:
Soon becoming dry this evening with skies clearing across most parts. Widely very cold and frosty overnight, especially in eastern areas. Light winds. Minimum temperature -5 deg C (23 deg F).

Tuesday:
A largely sunny morning after a very cold start. Cloudier by the afternoon, with the odd shower, but still some decent spells of sunshine around. Winds remaining light. Maximum temperature 12 deg C (54 deg F).

Outlook for Wednesday to Friday:
Some isolated daytime showers, otherwise mainly dry with decent sunny or clear periods. Daytime temperatures near normal. Overnight frosts with some mist and fog, though soon clearing by day.
